

31

NMR is Science

N-Heterocyclic carbene precursor pincer ligand

Daniel Kremer, 2013

Molecular Physiology Department | University of Michigan

Field strength: 400 MHz

Why is this your favorite spectrum?

This is the first target I successfully synthesized. It took me a summer to get it, and going through the process I learned why I wanted to be a scientist. It's a clean spectrum showing interesting symmetry and splitting.